Summary of Project Activities and Accomplishments

The Plain Township Historical Society (PTHS), Stark County, Ohio was established in 2005 to preserve, promote and protect the heritage of Plain Township, Stark County, Ohio and is a non-profit 501©(3) organization. As we have focused our resources on researching and writing, the need to reorganize and digitize our collection became a top priority. Along with the fact that our archives continue to grow as we do our research, we need to standardize storage containers to maximize our limited storage space. This grant helped us to build the foundation and standards to make our archives more accessible. We chose to focus this grant on information relating to land and buildings which is one of our main research areas.

Titles, series titles, dates and cubic footage/number of images scanned, of records addressed by your project.

Our land and building archives are stored by section. Plain Township is divided into 36 one-mile square sections numbered 1 through 36. We moved what was originally stored in folders and hanging files to archival quality folders and archival storage boxes. Each archival storage box is one section. The folders within the storage box represent an address or location within that section. Also included in the storage box is the Land Index Record and any property abstracts related to that section. We also added several steps to the transition process that were not originally included in the grant. We took advantage of physically going through the files to remove any duplicates and put items into archival quality plastic sleeves. All items were verified to see that they were accessioned, cataloged, digitized and following current file naming standards. We also developed standardized labeling for the boxes to help located information easier. A total of 16 cubic feet of archival material was transitioned and 428 pages scanned. (See Appendix 1)

Since we are a researched based organization, part of this grant was geared towards digitizing property abstracts. These abstracts are a key to understanding how land has changed hands over time. Within the abstract, other information can be found as well (wills, genealogy, references to other buildings, etc.) Our original goal was to digitized and make available on our website 50% of the abstracts in our archives. We scanned the abstracts and other related land documents into text searchable PDF files using a portable scanner purchased through this grant. 55 abstracts were scanned which is over the 50% goal for the grant with 28 of the abstracts available on our website. Including all of the ancillary land documents 1,650 pages were scanned. (See Appendix 2)

In acquiring various collections, we were donated two scrapbooks that are in poor condition that contain important information about a local family. The scrapbooks mainly consisted of newspaper clippings from the early 1900s. Using the portable scanner, we scanned these two scrapbooks into PDF files and placed them in archival storage boxes. 66 pages were scanned creating two PDF files. (See Appendix 3)

Summary:
16 cubic feet of material rehoused
2,144 paged scanned
57 PDF files created

Copies of catalog entries and other finding aids (these might include screen shots, links, and before and after photos), if applicable.

Appendix 2 shows how to access the abstracts online. The abstracts are under the menu History – Land – Property Abstracts.

Appendix 1 shows the box signage in use to help researchers locate the correct information. On the side of the box is a map of Plain Township with a map push pin located on the section that is contained in the box. We use a modern map so that a researcher can use today’s landmarks to find the correct container.

Appendix 4 shows catalog records in our Excel Spreadsheet. Also as part of this catalog entry, we noted the last time the item was audited physically and digitally.

Narrative of self-assessment about how the project met the objectives submitted in your application.

As with any project there are gains, set backs and unexpected results and this project is no different. We consider this project a success and the foundation for building a more accessible archive both physically and digitally. Our physical archives were slowly moving towards standardizing the containers we store items in and labeling them. With this project, we formalized and designed what signage and boxes we need to use. We understand that we can not have everything in archival boxes overnight and will continue to work towards moving other items to archival boxes as funds become available.

We also were able to successfully scan key research documents, property abstracts, and make them available online. This information was shared with the McKinley Presidential Library and Museum since they do similar research. We have prioritized the type of documents we scan and make available online based on what research materials we need to get our hands on easier and property abstracts fit that criteria. Also, we will be able to easily tell which sections we need to focus on getting abstracts for.

There was one set back. In the middle of the project, we had to consolidate our physical archives to “protect our assets” from a plumbing issue. Fortunately, nothing was damaged. The positive that came from this was not only did we pull together as a team in a moment’s notice to tarp and move items, we got the opportunity to move filing cabinets around. We are taking our time to move items back. We are designating areas for certain storage needs and labeling the areas accordingly. Our goal is that you should be able to find a location label that makes sense for the items you are looking for. We also moved key items out of the “splash zone” to protect them. Any items moving into these newly designated areas need to be not only labeled according to the standards developed under this grant but also audited to make sure the item is digitized, accessioned, cataloged and fits with our naming standard. This process will take some time, but in the long run researchers will be able to quickly and easily locate the items they need.

This biggest unexpected result was how efficient and time saving the portable scanner was. We did time trials during the grant writing phase to see how long it took to scan an average abstract (30 pages). For our HP 7470 it was two hours to process the document. On the exact same document, the IRIScan Desk Portable Scanner took 45 minutes. This cut our scanning time in half which is the main reason we were able to scan more abstracts than we estimated. The quality was equal or better. Being able to make scanning adjustments on the fly and not lifting the lid of the scanner for each page were huge gains for us. We were also able to use the scanning experience to expose our volunteers who are not comfortable with technology to how easy scanning is. We put volunteers into two person teams. One person was in charge of turning the page and making sure things were lined up and the other person operated the scanning software. Our volunteers gain confidence and are now more eager to help with the scanning process. Also, volunteers got to work with and see what type of information we keep. (See Appendix 5)

An Evaluation of the Project’s Impact

Since we do not have a physical museum and easy access to our archives, the first goal is to make our own researchers aware of what resources we have. By making these researchers part of the process, we raise awareness. We continue to work with these researchers to define what material they need quick access to and then make that available via our website. Part of this education process includes getting our own researchers to become familiar with our website. As the saying goes “built it and they will come”, which is the philosophy we are taking. We continue to expand our network of historical societies and making them aware of the resources we have available. We already partner with the core research group at the McKinley Presidential Library and Museum (of which some our members are part of that group) to raise awareness. We are scheduling a couple of speaking engagements in 2023 as well. As our 2023 research season gets underway, we will put these new assets to the test.

Share how your institution will build upon the success of the project through additional initiatives.
Since this grant developed the standards for signage and storage, as new items come in, they will follow those guidelines. We will continue the reorganization of the “rest” of the archives to align those items with the standards. The portable scanner is used weekly to continue the process of digitizing our archives. Also, we have deployed the portable scanner to work on one of our next publications “History of the Plain Township Fire Department.” In this project alone, we have scanned over 4,000 photos with portable scanner. This scanner is one of work horses to keep our archives moving forward.

Quotes from Local Press Coverage and also Copies of Articles cited

As Appendix 2 shows, our website not only references the grant on the abstract page, but also has the logo in the footer. We also announced the grant opportunity on our website back in May 2022. We have featured several articles in our monthly newsletter. Our newsletter goes out to our members, other historical societies, Stark Community Foundation and other community partners. OHRAB is also featured on our Community Partner flyer that we display at our meetings and events we participate. (See Appendix 6)

Project Expenses

The volunteer time on this project falls into two categories. There were five work sessions with six people at each session. Two of the sessions were dedicated to going thru the sections folders and making sure the correct items were in the folder, moving the items to an archival folder and labeling that folder to our naming standard. Three sessions were dedicated to scanning abstracts where we used two portable scanners. We budgeted for 88 hours and actually had 201 volunteer hours in this project (volunteer rate $28.54/hr. for 201 hours for a total of $5,736 cash match.)

- 2 sorting work sessions (6 people for 3 hours each) = 36 hours
- 3 scanning sessions (6 people for 3 hours each) = 54 hours
- Project leader setup time for each session (1 person for 1 hour, 5 sessions) = 5 hours
- Project leader time to format abstracts for posting on website (1 person, 28 abstracts for 1 hour) = 28 hours
- Project leader time to audit and move folders to archival boxes (36 sections + 2 Extras, 2 hours each box) = 76 hours
- Project leader time to scan and move scrapbooks to archival boxes (2 scrapbooks for 1 hour each) = 2 hours

Gaylord archival boxes totaling $1,393 ($1,323 paid with grant funds, $60 cash match)

Two IRIScan Desk Scanner totaling $600 ($300 paid with grant funds, $300 cash match)

Legal archival file folders totaling $156 ($156 cash match)

Archival quality sheet protectors $75 ($75 cash match)

Property Abstracts

A property abstract is a chronological account of the owners of a property. They are not the same as a deed which denotes legal ownership. Abstracts are multi-page documents which historically were legal paperwork for land ownership. They were updated each time the property was sold and were passed to the new owner(s). This legal obligation was terminated in the late 1930s and abstracts are not used legally today.

Property abstracts contain a wealth of information about the property and, often, the families who owned the property through the years. Sometimes they contain genealogical information about the family and may even contain a copy of an existing will.

Each section of Plain Township had, at one time, many abstracts as there were many property owners in each section and an abstract was required for each individual property. When they were no longer legally required many people simply kept the abstract with the legal papers for their home, but they were not updated anymore.

Abstracts today are not kept by any governmental agency so you cannot go to a county office to view them. The documents may still be kept by families or donated to historical groups. If you know the Section and Quarter of the area...

donated to historical groups. If you know the Section and Quarter of the area you want to research and are somewhat lucky, you may find an abstract which has been donated. The McKinley Presidential Library and Museum and the North Canton Heritage Society have some abstracts in their archives.

Advisory Board, through funding from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), National Archives

2022 OHRAB Grant funded the equipment to aid in the digitization

Got Granted!

We were notified on Friday, April 22, 2022 that we were selected for a 2022 OHRAB grant. The Ohio Historical Records Advisory Board grant was applied for in March to cover supplies to upgrade our archival storage and add additional equipment to our mobile scanning fleet. As our archives continues to grow, we need to, from time to time, assess how we store items and better ways to access them. The Board of Directors picked 2022 as the year for PTHS to take a look at this issue especially since our space is limited. Also, we have many areas in our archives that have expanded and need to be regrouped so like items are stored together. We also wanted to expand our ability to scan items to add to our digital archive. With an additional scanner, we can train our volunteers and be able to process donations in a more efficient manner. We will be scheduling “work days” to have volunteers come in an assist with this project as this project focuses on scanning our abstracts, refiling into archival quality storage containers our information we store by Sections and items that are stored in Banker Boxes. The grant period runs from May 2, 2022 to Dec 31, 2022. So, keep those donations coming and watch for volunteer opportunities. Thank You!!!

-- Archives In Action --

The newsletter always highlights new additions to our archives. As a way to share these items on another level, we are going to start displaying some of them at our monthly meetings. We are hoping to get people thinking about items that can be donated or scanned and returned, as well as, picking up a story or two. Sometimes as the saying goes “a picture is worth a thousand words” and hopefully we can get around 300 or so to add to our knowledge base. At the next meeting, stop by the table and take a gander and share something about these pieces of history.

Summer Events

It is that time of the year, cook outs, graduation parties, working in the garden, farmer’s markets and more. Summer is one of our busier times of the year as we “put boots on the ground” and get out into the community and share our story. This year is no different, so mark your calendars, volunteer if you can and we hope to see you out and about. Also, if you know of any possible community events that will lend themselves to us sharing our story, please let a board member know.

Annual Picnic – Fun in the park. Hopefully no wind or rain to grill the hot dogs in. Splash Park nearby to cool off and bathrooms. Mark your calendar for June 20th at Veterans Park from 5-8 pm for our Annual Picnic in the Park covered dish. Dinner is served at 6 pm. Hot dogs, buns, condiments, utensils, plates, napkins, and water are provided. Bring your favorite covered dish to share. Come and share fellowship and stories as we gather to kick off summer.

McDonald’s Fund Raiser – We are back to Wednesdays after celebrating St. Patrick’s day in March. So, plan on joining us on Wednesday, June 15th at McDonald’s on Market Ave across
